CCPS to Dismiss on Regular Schedule Friday, December 8

All afterschool activities and extra-curricular activities canceled through 12 Noon, Saturday, December 9

As Clayton County Public Schools (CCPS) continues to monitor local weather forecasts, please consider this advisory as an update concerning the district operating hours and scheduled activities. It has been determined that all schools and district offices will dismiss on its regular schedule this afternoon, Friday, December 8. The Campus Kids afterschool program will also dismiss at its regular schedule, however, parents/guardians are encouraged to pick up their children as early as possible.

Due to anticipated winter weather conditions, all afterschool athletic and extra-curricular activities are canceled through 12:00 noon on Saturday, December 9, 2017. This includes the Title I Parent University at Rex Mill Middle School as well as the Orange Duffle Bag Initiative Program at Clayton State University. All Sunday activities are expected to resume as previously scheduled. This includes Clayton County at the High Museum on Sunday, December 10. CCPS shuttle buses will depart on schedule at 12:15 p.m. on Sunday.

We will continue to provide updates should any changes occur with all scheduled events. We encourage all stakeholders to continue to monitor district communications platforms for additional updates and other weather announcements as well as the official weather reporting stations of Clayton County Public Schools – WSB-TV (Channel 2 News), 95.5 and 750 AM Radio.
