CCPS to Closely Monitor Weather Developments

Clayton County Public Schools (CCPS), in response to Winter Weather Advisory alerts for light snow accumulations expected to impact metro Atlanta, is monitoring all sources of weather information to make the best informed decision about its operations for Friday, December 8. As we continue to monitor forecasts and make updates available through all of our standard communications platforms, we also encourage all stakeholders to stay in touch with our official inclement weather stations WSB-TV (Channel 2), News 95.5 and AM 750 Radio, as well as other electronic media for additional information.

“We hope all of our families will take the necessary steps to remain safe and warm during the low temperatures that this frontal system is expected to bring,” said Dr. Morcease J. Beasley, CCPS Superintendent of Schools. “We will work diligently to keep you informed with the most up-to-date information.”

About Clayton County Public Schools
