Solicitor General's Office to Donate Supplies for Fifth Consecutive Year Supplies to be distributed to all CCPS Schools and Programs

On Tuesday, July 31, 2018, Clayton County Public Schools (CCPS) will receive an annual school supply donation from the Office of Clayton County Solicitor General, Tasha Mosley, as students prepare to return to school on Monday, August 6. Due to the generous donation from Solicitor Mosley and her team of donors, every CCPS teacher will receive enough supplies/materials to accommodate the districts' almost 55,000 students to start the 2018-19 school year. Funded by the Solicitor's office Pre-Trial Intervention Program, the donation of over $14,000.00 in school supplies will be delivered by the CCPS Maintenance Department to all schools and programs in the district and are expected to be distributed by school administrators.

Beginning at 8:00 a.m., Clayton County Public School Officials, Solicitor Mosley and representatives from various donor organizations, including Walmart, will be on site at Charles Drew High School on Tuesday, July 31, 2018 to organize the donated supplies prior to the delivery to each school and program sites.
